How the Association started

- Founded in 2011
- An influencer on social questions, Creating information, Problem-solving
- A significant number of messages received
- Patients needed help, information and support
- There was insufficient help and information available

The "Homepakolaiset" association provides information about

- the situation of patients
- different types of patients/different degrees of illness
- problem-solving possibilities on an individual, group and social level
- finding solutions; how to continue studying; how to continue working
- construction materials and methods for patients
- new research on the subject on its webpage

“

Different authorities do not offer patients the information and help they need to find suitable solutions to their situations.”

“

Patients need to search for bits and pieces from different parties, support groups and private companies.”

“

Problem-solving is very often difficult or is inefficient.”

WAIT HERE

- People need information about practical solutions. Both the patients and those they interact with are asking for this kind of information.
- This information should also be provided systemically by professionals and authorities.
- Satakunta-program is addressing the right questions. It is wonderful that proper follow-up and research work is done.
